1. Purpose

In the compilation of this Code, the board of directors of the Company (Board) has, where possible, followed the recommendations of the ASX Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (4th Edition).

This Code sets out:

- (a) The Company's values and commitments;
- (b) the standards of ethical behaviour and good corporate governance that are required to be achieved by the Board and the senior management and employees of the Nyrada Group; and
- (c) the ways in which the Nyrada Group will engender good corporate governance practices and encourage observance of the standards of behaviour and good corporate governance set out in this Code.

The Nyrada Group's directors, senior management and employees are expected at all times to act consistently with the principles set out in this Code. All employees are expected to receive appropriate training on their obligations under this Code.

This Code has been developed to align with, and is underpinned by the Company's values.

2. Values

2.1 Company Values

The Company Values are:

- (a) Better Health Outcomes: Improving patient health is at the heart of everything we do;
- (b) Straight Talking: We say what we mean and deliver on our promises, both to each other and our stakeholders. We are transparent and act with integrity in everything we do;

- (c) Diversity is a Strength: We accept our differences and recognise that a variety of experiences and backgrounds creates a stronger team. We know we achieve more working together than alone;
- (d) Innovation Excellence: We leverage insights and outside-the-box thinking to turn complex problems into simple solutions. We seek to push the boundaries to truly see what's possible; and
- (e) Resilience: We are quick to anticipate obstacles and can pivot and adapt to ensure we stay on course. We are agile in our thinking and embrace different points of view.

3. Standards

3.1 Integrity, honesty and fairness

The Board, senior management and every employee of the Nyrada Group is expected to act with integrity, honesty and fairness by:

- (a) acting in the best interests of the Nyrada Group;
- (b) dealing fairly with customers, suppliers, competitors and the community;
- (c) understanding and complying with legal requirements and the policies of the Nyrada Group;
- (d) acting ethically and responsibly;
- (e) avoiding actual or potential conflicts of interest and declaring any actual or potential conflicts that arise;
- (f) taking reasonable steps to avoid or manage any actual conflict or potential conflict that does arise;
- (g) reporting any complaint or instance of dissatisfaction with the Nyrada Group, its senior management or employees to the Board;
- (h) not knowingly participating in any illegal or unethical activity;
- (i) not entering into any arrangement or participating in any activity that would conflict with the Nyrada Group's best interests or that would be likely to negatively affect the Nyrada Group's reputation;
- (j) trading only in the securities of the Company in strict accordance with the Company's Share Trading Policy;
- (k) maintaining confidentiality with respect to all dealings of the Nyrada Group and maintaining the confidences of all persons with whom the Nyrada Group has dealings;
- (l) not taking advantage of or misusing the Nyrada Group's or a third party's property or information or causing detriment to the Company or third parties; and
- (m) not taking advantage of their position or the opportunities arising out of their position for personal gain.

3.2 Good corporate citizenship

The Nyrada Group recognises that it operates in an environment which impacts on various interests in the community. In pursuing corporate responsibility, the Nyrada Group will:

- (a) always consider the environmental, sociological and economic impacts of its operations;
- (b) implement appropriate health and safety and environmental policies which balance the interests of its stakeholders and the communities in which it operates but always places the health and safety of its employees and others first;
- (c) observe the letter and spirit of relevant laws and regulations; and
- (d) adhere to the ASX Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (4th Edition).

3.3 Workplace fairness

The Nyrada Group is committed to providing a diverse workforce with a fair, inclusive and safe work environment. The objective of the Nyrada Group is to create a diverse and equitable workplace where employees feel encouraged to perform and are free from discrimination on the basis of age, gender identity, race and ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, marital, family or socioeconomic status, political, cultural or other beliefs. In pursuit of this objective, the Nyrada Group will:

- (a) not tolerate any act of harassment, bullying or discrimination;
- (b) encourage the reporting of any act of harassment, bullying or discrimination and deal swiftly and appropriately with those in breach of the standards to minimise harm; and
- (c) openly apply policies of performance management, recognise achievement consistent with the policies and communicate to employees areas in which they could improve.

3.4 Trading activities

The Nyrada Group values fair competition and trade practices and will seek to comply with the letter and spirit of all Commonwealth and State or Territory trade practices laws where applicable. In pursuing this objective the Nyrada Group expects that:

- (a) its employees and particularly senior management will exercise the highest level of honesty and integrity in all dealings with suppliers, customers and consumers in relation to marketing and selling activities, use of market power, description of goods, its relationships with suppliers and the quality and safety of its products; and
- (b) its employees and particularly senior management will never say or do anything that is likely to mislead or deceive anyone dealing with the Nyrada Group.

4. Anti-bribery

The Nyrada Group's directors, senior management and employees must not engage in activity that constitutes bribery, facilitation payments, secret commissions or money laundering. Such activity is contrary to principles of integrity and fairness, and is harmful to the Nyrada Group's reputation amongst customers, suppliers, shareholders and the investment community.

The Nyrada Group's directors, senior management and employees are required to comply with and uphold all laws against bribery and related conduct in all the jurisdictions where the Nyrada Group operates.

The Nyrada Group's directors, senior management and employees must observe the following at all times:

- (a) never offer or accept any irregular payment to win business or to influence a business decision in the Nyrada Group's favour. This restriction also applies to consultants and contractors;
- (b) do not accept gifts, entertainment or hospitality in breach of our policies – the Nyrada Group recognises that accepting or offering gifts, entertainment or hospitality of moderate value is in accordance with usual business practice;
- (c) do not offer or accept gifts, entertainment or hospitality in circumstances which could be considered to give rise to undue influence;
- (d) do not improperly influence an official. All dealings with politicians and government officers which relate to the Nyrada Group and its business activities must be conducted at arm's length and with the utmost professionalism, to avoid any perception of attempts to gain advantage;
- (e) all business dealings must be accurately documented to reflect the true nature of the transaction;
- (f) take all practical steps to ensure that third parties (agents, contractors, intermediaries or business partners) dealing with or on behalf of the Nyrada Group do not engage in conduct that would contravene this Code or any laws; and
- (g) any political donations must be authorised by the Board and will be disclosed as required by law and recorded in the Nyrada Group's accounts.

5. Conflicts of interest

Personal interests should not conflict with the duties and obligations of the Nyrada Group's directors, senior management and employees to the Nyrada Group. A conflict of interest may arise if a director, senior manager or employee have a direct or indirect (through a family member, friend or associate) financial interest in a business that has commercial arrangements with the Nyrada Group.

A conflict of interest may arise where a director, senior manager or employee of the Nyrada Group is in a personal relationship with:

- (a) a direct report or other employee where the relationship could create a conflict or perceived conflict with the relevant individual's duties to the Nyrada Group; or
- (b) a customer or supplier that may prejudice or influence the relevant business relationship or compromise or prevent the Nyrada Group securing the most commercially favourable terms for purchase or supply of goods or services.

To manage conflicts of interest, the Nyrada Group's directors, senior management and employees must:

- (a) disclose any actual or perceived conflicts of interest to the appropriate officer – in the case of senior management (other than the Chief Executive Officer (CEO)) and employees, this is the CEO. In the case of the CEO and the directors of the Company, this is the Board;

- (b) seek approval from the CEO or the Board, as the case may be, before accepting any outside business interests including non-Nyrada Group work, business ventures, directorships (other than to a board of a non-trading family company), partnerships or other interests which have the potential to create a conflict of interest; and
- (c) keep an arm's length relationship when dealing with customers and suppliers

6. Monitoring and breaches

This Code has the full support of the Board and compliance with this Code is taken very seriously.

As a measure of accountability, compliance with this Code is monitored by the Nyrada Group's senior management on behalf of the Board. The Board will be advised of any material breaches of this Code by the Nyrada Group's senior management.

If you breach this Code you may face disciplinary action, including termination of your employment. If the situation involves a breach of law or other regulation, the matter may also be referred to an appropriate law enforcement authority.

You have a responsibility to immediately report any breaches of this Code by a colleague to your immediate supervisor or manager, and you should also report conduct where you are unsure whether a breach of this Code has occurred.

All reports will be kept confidential and no employee will be disadvantaged or prejudiced by reporting in good faith a breach or suspected breach of a law, regulation, or of this Code.

7. Review of this Code

The Code is approved by the Board and will be reviewed by the Board periodically in order to check whether it is operating effectively and whether any changes are required to the Code. This Code may be amended by resolution of the Board.

Date of last review: 30 June 2024 (effective)
